

EcoDisc DVD Compatibility Report

Testronic Labs, established in 1998, offers professional and confidential independent quality assurance services to the Home Entertainment and New Media Industries. Based in Burbank, CA, Testronic Labs is the leader in independent international Quality Assurance, specializing in providing QA services and consultancy to the DVD & Video, Audio, Games, E-Learning, Communications and New Media Industries.

Testronic Labs' sites operate to identical standards, which are continually developed in conjunction with evolving markets, clients' needs and our experience gained over many years. This enables Testronic Labs to guarantee the uniformity of approach essential to multinational developers, titleholders, publishers, distributors and manufacturers.

Testronic Labs serves a global client base of over 250 media and hi-tech companies, including many prestigious brands.

During the second half of 2009 EcoDisc Technology AG has asked Testronic Labs to subject the EcoDisc to a comprehensive format test to analyse function and player compatibility in the largest test environment possible. These tests were carried out in Burbank, California and at Testronic Labs' European facility in Hasselt, Belgium.

The EcoDisc was tested in the test bed to analyse its performance in respect to the following:

1. Start Up (SU)

This is a verification that the disc will load and access content successfully.

2. Start Up Time (SUT)

The time taken to perform step one is noted in seconds.

3. Playback (PB)

The disc content is played and observed for 1-2 minutes. This is a verification that the disc plays back normally.

4. Drive Noise (DN)

The disc is loaded into the player or drive. This is a verification that the disc plays with minimum drive noise.

5. Eject (EJ)

The disc is ejected from the player and drive. This is a verification that the disc will eject successfully.

The test bed consists of Blu-ray players, standard definition DVD players and PC and Apple drives. The sample of players used in this test bed represents between 80% and 90% of the installed product base according to the best available and most current market share findings. Testronic Labs purchases US and International market share information annually and updates the player matrix annually to best represent the market trends.

“Based on testing the EcoDisc on in excess of 240 players and drives and after thorough inspection in accordance to the quality criteria specified above, Testronics Labs have approved the EcoDisc as fit and robust for the purposes intended.”

In addition to this, EcoDisc Technology has carried out independent product tests in accordance with Testronic Labs' stringent quality criteria for a combined test bed of over 400 player and drives.

The results of both tests are contained in this report.
